- Details of all fluid replaced, the specification and the manufacturer (i.e. engine oil, transmission oil, anti-freeze etc.)
- Copy of the service check sheet showing that all of the Hyundai Motor UK Ltd. service schedule requirements have been carried out

Independent service provider proof of competence:

- Membership of a recognised UK motor trades organisation or industry association which monitors standards and working practices in automotive maintenance and service provision
- Technician qualification from a recognised UK training provider in automotive maintenance services, to the appropriate level for the work performed

Please note:

The inspection and testing of certain electronic fuel injection/engine management and automatic transmission control systems require specialised electronic equipment specifically designed for Hyundai vehicles. The use of general purpose electrical test equipment may result in damage to the control unit microprocessors.
